Dear Sir/Madam,
 The Department of Linguistics in collaboration with Center for India-Canada Studies is organizing a seminar series on 11th January 2022 (1-4 PM) to discuss different aspects of communication during police questioning, emergency medicine consultation and business. In this event several acclaimed researchers of the field are participating. The event would be a good platform to discuss different issues related to this area.

I on behalf of the Centre for India-Canada Studies request to circulate this information amongst your students/research group so that the interested teachers and students can take the advantage of this programme and attend the same.

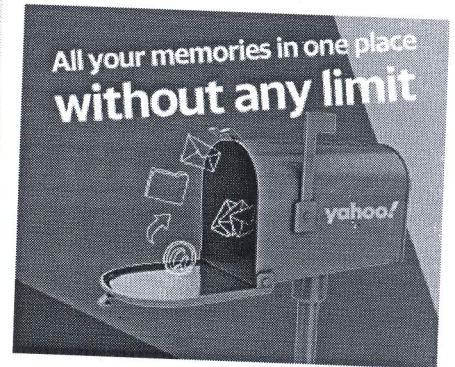

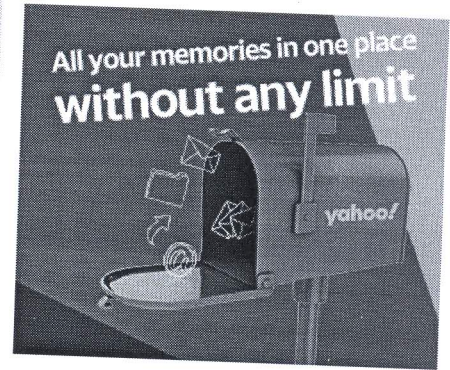

I am attaching the programme flier for more details and encourage you to also visit our website <http://cics.du.ac.in/>

I would also request you if you could forward this mail to other interested investigators, colleagues and students in your circle.
