Subject: Invitation to Talk2Me program with UC Chile students
To:

Dear partners:
I hope this email finds you well.
As partners at the U21 network, we are pleased to extend our invitation to the Talk2Me program.

This is an initiative of the Vice-Presidency for International Affairs at UC | Chile. The purpose of the program is to practice English and Spanish through conversation. Therefore, participants are expected to have sufficient knowledge of their partner's language in order to actively participate in the activity. The program has a duration of 8 weeks, starting on September 5th and ending on November 4th. The idea is that the international partners meet with their UC partners once a week for at least one hour and exchange ideas on a given topic.

This program is designed for undergraduate students who want to practice their Spanish, but do not necessarily plan to/can travel or might not be able to come to Chile on a mobility program. Interested students should apply directly by filling out the simple sign-up form below.

Please feel free to share this invitation with anyone who might be interested such as language centers, Latin American studies programs, History programs, Political Science, or students belonging to other disciplines or groups. We have attached a digital kit to help spread the word.

The call for applications is open until August 31st. Students interested in participating should register directly at the following link: <https://airtable.com/shrFvoFItv45KIsE1> (here you'll also find the activity rules and regulations).

We appreciate that you can support us with the promotion of this great program and that as many students as possible are interested in participating.

Further questions to Felipe Herrera <fgherrer@uc.cl> Coordinator of Internationalization at Home OR to Barbara Fuchslocher <barbara.fuchslocher@uc.cl> Internationalization at Home Officer."
